

Play with your children

It is important that parents play with their children, because they need to feel the love from their mother as much as from their father to be happier. A lot of games can help parents in the difficulties of educate and playing outside will also benefit the whole family. It is also important for their development and their education.

Dedicate some time daily

Dedicate minimum half an hour to the children is essential for them and also for the parents, to have a strong relationship.

A lot of parents, when play with their sons solve problems or conflicts.

Why?

1. Play with our sons doesn't mean to lose the time.
2. Increase self-esteem and improves family relationships.
3. It transmits them a sense of security.
4. Promotes sociability skills.
5. Helps on emotional self-control.
6. It encourages children's creativity and school success.
7. Promotes popularity and social competence.
8. Improves children attention.
9. Promotes active children.
10. Promotes happiness.